Subject: Webinar: How organizations are boosting business agility with digital document processes - reg.

Madam/Sir,

Adobe featuring Forrester Research is organising a webinar on the subject cited above. The pandemic has deeply altered organizations engaged with customers and employees. A recent commissioned study conducted by Forrester Consulting on behalf of Adobe shows that many key functional processes in Asia Pacific organizations continue to rely heavily on manual, paper-based processes. This lack of digitization is impeding productivity, slowing down businesses, and increasing security risks – putting an alarming 43% of revenue at risk.

2. This webinar is specially designed for IT and LOB leads and professionals - involved or interested in improving digital workflows, workforce productivity, employee lifecycle management and sales acceleration.
